

A Matter of Perspective

Instructions: When something happens, such as spilling a glass of milk, we see it through our own eyes. However, situations often involve more than one person. Take a look at the scene below and see how the people involved in the scene react to the situation. What other reactions might the involved people have?

